INTRODUCTION

The Travel Management System is window based application. The main purpose of travel management system is to provide a convenient way for a passenger to book Travels for travel purposes. This application provides access to lucrative travel deals and offers and gives pricing information for each of them. The main purpose of travels management system is to provide a best facility and travelling services for a passenger to book Travels ticket for trip purpose. We have developed travels management system to provide a search platform find their travel places according to their choices.

This is instead of to provide the best traveling services to the passengers. We have expanded travel administration strategy to provide an exploration platform where a tourist can find their trip spots according to their choices. The admin can select any of the three choices available, which includes travel, food and accommodation facilities. Details of different types of travels which includes tours like family tours, couple tours, general tours, date and time of departure and the fair of the tours etc are maintained.

EXISTING SYSTEM

In the existing system, each task is carried out manually and processing is also a tedious job. In previous system travelers were maintaining time table details manually in pen and paper, which was time taking costly. The travelers is not able to achieve its need in time and also the results may not accurate. In the existing system, all the records are not kept perfectly because all the work is done manually, so keeping up to date details of the bus, timings of bookings, seat availability for booking is not done. Amount of the overall trips are kept in documents and the calculations done are manually which made lead to huge mistakes. Thus, the existing system is very time consuming and being manual work sometimes lead to a great loss as well. Because of the manual maintenance there are number of difficulties and drawbacks exist in the system. Some of them are:

PROPOSED SYSTEM

The proposed system is designed to be more efficient than the manual system. It invokes all base tasks than are now carried out manually, such as the forms transactions and reports which is added advantage. The proposed system is completely computer-based application. Thousands of records can searched and displayed without taking any significant time. The proposed system is to develop a fully functional window Website, to provide efficient and time consuming system for travellers and service provider related with the travel business, providing registration, ticket booking and other facilities. This system also gives related information like which places are travel attractions, cities and provinces. Passenger can also book Travles through our travel management system.

- Simplifies the manual work.
- It minimizes the documentation related work.
- Provides up to date information.
- Friendly Environment by providing warning messages.
- Travelers details can be provided.
- Booking confirmation notification.
- Gives accurate information.

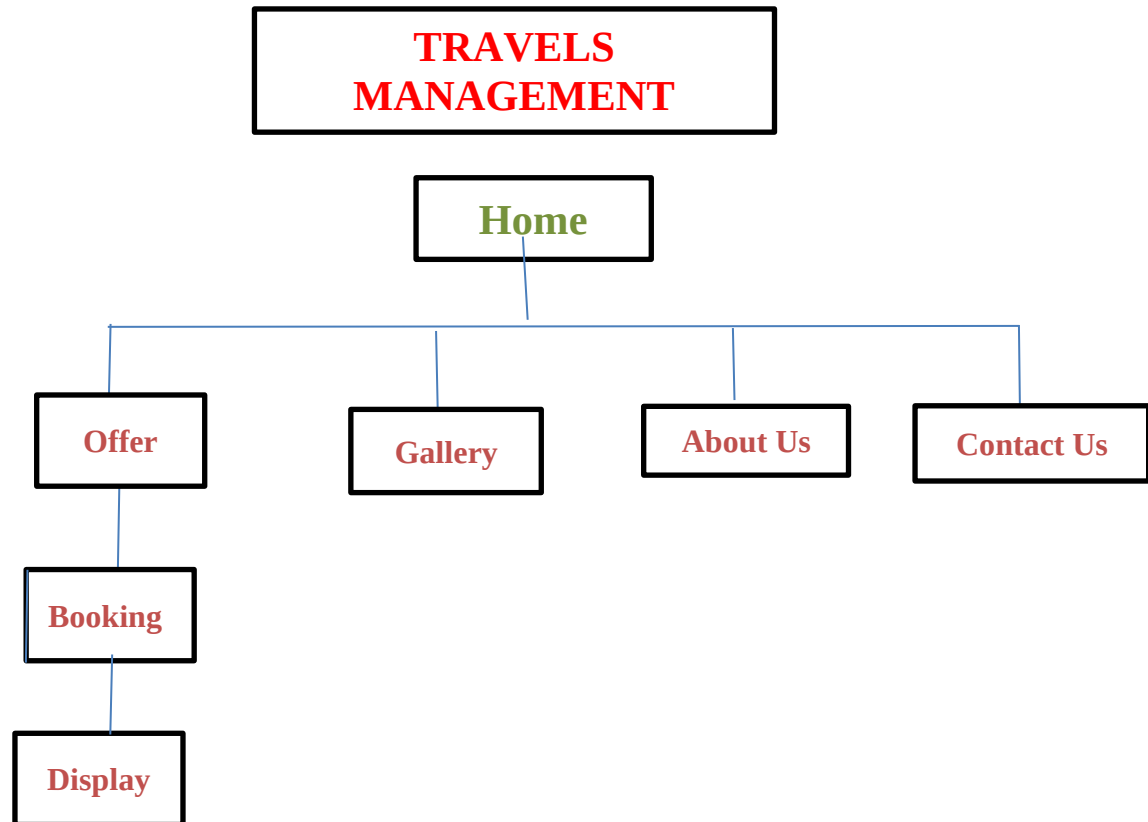

Objectives:

1. Website Branding: The code aims to establish the brand identity of TravelIndia.com by including the company name in the title tag and displaying the logo prominently in the header section.
2. Navigation: It provides easy navigation for users through a menu bar located in the header, allowing users to access different sections of the website such as Home, Offers, Gallery, About Us, and Contact.
3. Content Presentation: The code organizes content into sections such as Offers, Gallery, About Us, and Contact, making it easier for users to find relevant information about travel destinations and services offered by TravelIndia.com.
4. Visual Appeal: It incorporates images and styling to enhance the visual appeal of the website, making it more attractive and engaging for visitors.
5. User Engagement: The inclusion of interactive elements like the "Book Now" buttons and smooth scrolling functionality aims to increase user engagement and encourage visitors to take action, such as booking a tour or contacting the agency.
6. Information Accessibility: The code ensures that essential information such as contact details and booking forms are easily accessible to users, facilitating communication and interaction with the agency.

Limitations:

1. Accessibility: The code lacks accessibility features such as alt text for images, ARIA roles, and keyboard navigation, making it less usable for people with disabilities.
2. Responsive Design: The code doesn't seem to prioritize responsive design, which could result in poor user experience on different devices and screen sizes.
3. SEO: There's limited or no implementation of SEO best practices like meta tags, structured data, and semantic HTML, which can impact search engine visibility and ranking.
4. Code Organization: The code could be more organized, with separate files for CSS and JavaScript, and possibly modularized code for better maintenance and readability.
5. Repetitive IDs: Multiple elements have the same IDs, violating the HTML specification. IDs should be unique within a document

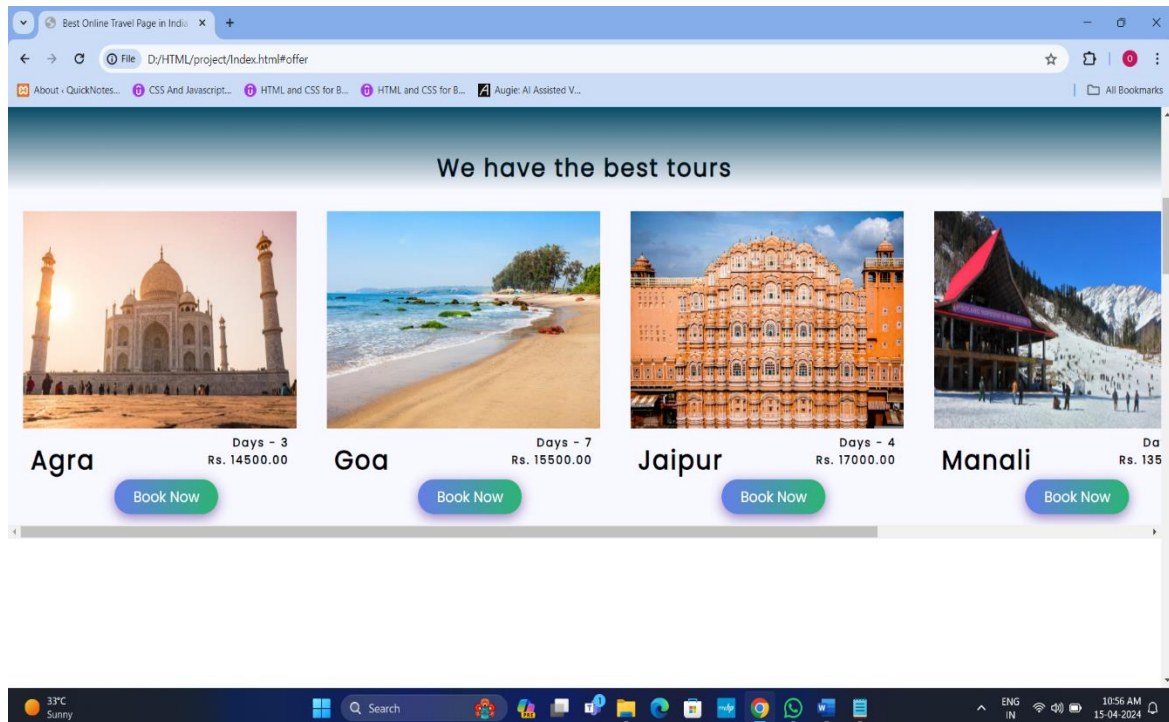

Advantages:

1. Clean Markup: The HTML structure is relatively clean and straightforward, making it easy to understand and modify.
2. Visually Appealing: The page appears to have a visually appealing design with images and styling that can attract users.
3. Interactive Elements: The inclusion of JavaScript allows for interactive elements like smooth scrolling to sections when clicking on links, enhancing user experience.
4. Book Now Functionality: The "Book Now" buttons trigger a smooth scroll to the contact section, facilitating user engagement and conversion.
5. Content Organization: The page is divided into sections (e.g., Home, Offers, Gallery, About Us, Contact) for better organization and navigation.
6. Use of Semantic Elements: Semantic HTML elements like `<header>`, `<section>`, `<h2>`, ``, `<ul>`, and `<li>` are used appropriately, improving code semantics and SEO.

CONCLUSION

The travel management project has proven to be a pivotal tool in streamlining travel processes, enhancing efficiency, and ensuring cost-effectiveness within our organization. By implementing robust systems for booking, expense tracking, and itinerary management, we have significantly reduced administrative burdens and minimized potential errors.

Moreover, the project has facilitated better compliance with travel policies and regulations, ultimately leading to improved control and oversight. Moving forward, continued optimization and integration of innovative technologies will be crucial in maintaining our competitive edge and further enhancing the travel experience for all stakeholders involved.
